Forecast For East of England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Sunday 04 Apr 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Turning much colder by Monday, with some snow showers.

This Evening and Tonight:
Fine and dry this evening. A band of patchy cloud and rain moves across the region after midnight, followed by clear spells. A second area of cloud with sleet and snow follows towards dawn. Minimum temperature 1 deg C (34 deg F).

Monday:
A much colder day, with strong northerly winds and perhaps coastal gales. Largely dry and sunny inland, but some snow showers are likely at times, especially towards North Sea coasts. Maximum temperature 7 deg C (45 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Staying cold, bright Tuesday, with snow showers along North Sea coasts. Widespread frost overnight. Cold, dry and sunny Wednesday and less windy. Somewhat milder on Thursday. Risk of rain later.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.